

Contents

| | |
|--|----|
| Acknowledgements | v |
| Contributors | vi |
| Spelling and Terminology | ix |
| Introduction | 1 |
| Philip Morrissey and Ruby Lowe | |
| 1 'No-one Can Block You from Your Mother's Country': Reading True Country Philip Morrissey | 9 |
| 2 Sexual and Textual Perversity in Benang Ruby Lowe | 23 |
| 3 Dry and Shrivelled Tongues: Song and the Appropriation of the Archive in Benang John Morrissey | 37 |
| 4 The Wirlomin Books: Rooted in Language and Place Lilly Brown | 45 |
| 5 'Forsaking Camouflage': Non-fictional Disclosure and Inscription in Kayang & Me Kate Leah Rendell | 61 |
| 6 Resurrection and History in That Deadman Dance Brandon Chua | 75 |

CONTENTS

| | | |
|----|---|-----|
| 7 | That Deadman Dance : The Brokerage of Decolonising Cosmopolitanism Anne Brewster | 91 |
| 8 | Whales, Whalers and the Work of Whaling in That Deadman Dance David Mence | 109 |
| 9 | Kim Scott's Fiction: The Prophetic Role of Story Morag Fraser | 123 |
| 10 | Speaking the Poetic Country: Kim Scott's Architecture of Moments Adam Shoemaker | 133 |
| | An Afterword on Taboo Philip Morrissey and Marion Campbell | 143 |
| | Notes | 153 |
| | Bibliography of Works Cited | 177 |
| | Bibliography of Kim Scott's Works | 186 |

